About Brad Johnson:

From psychic ability, channeling, healing, spiritual teaching, dream interpretation, the Akashic Records and more; Brad Johnson has developed these abilities to better understand how reality interacts with us on a personal and collective level. Brad has shared his knowledge with people from all over the world reflecting his empowering spiritual journey for over a decade. Brad shows us how we can form an intuitive relationship with the reflections of reality so that we can attract outcomes that serve our true aligned nature. Brad holds a natural conscious ability to connect with what could be called the higher mind, higher self or universal consciousness. He refers to this as the "Higher Mind State" as Brad possesses a natural ability to perceive and convey universal knowledge on a wide variety of subjects.

Adronis is the name given to the multidimensional consciousness channeled through Brad Johnson. The connection to Adronis has become more pure and channelings have emerged with a greater depth of information. Individuals has been amazed by how much personal and general information can be shared through Adronis as Brad channels him consciously.
